RE: SLATER BUILDERS

To Whom It May Concern:

Not only is Slater Builders a quality group of contractors who know how to build a project in a timely and cost efficient manner, but they are also true honest business men. Believe it or not, in a day of low bidding, extras and liening, there is still a contractor who genuinely cares about the outcome of the project.

They were able to competitively bid our office expansion as a design/build job yet phased so as to reduce the impact on the office personnel to a minimum. It takes a special team to be able to turn a business office upside down and still be able to keep all involved satisfied.

Slater Builders brings to the table a spirit of urgency and cooperativeness which is extremely comforting in today's business world. I appreciate the opportunity to work with them and look forward to the next project.

Very truly yours,
